

Riverfront Trail: Monument View Section - East

The Monument View Section of the Riverfront Trail goes from the Blue Heron Trail at Redlands Parkway all the way to the Fruita Welcome Center at Highway 340 and I-70. It's 8.1 miles from one end to the other and there aren't any water sources or restrooms in between.

A portion of this trail goes right along the river so it is can get flooded at times. There's also a stretch that's right next to I-70, so in winter it can get covered in snow plowed off the highway. There are two green gates along the path and when they're closed that means the trail isn't safe to ride.

Thorns and other such pointy things are not uncommon on this path, so it's best to have some tube sealer in your inner tubes or at least a spare tube and patch kit (and know how to use them). Car access is very limited for much of this trail, so it won't be east to call for a ride home.

If the gate is closed it means that the bike path is unsafe, probably due to flooding or winter conditions.

Although hunting is not permitted within the Walter Walker State Wildlife Area, hunting is allowed in surrounding areas including along the river. So the bike path may be used for hunter access during the hunting season. So basically watch out for hunters during the autumn months.

Free Parking
No Water
No Restrooms

Walter

Walker

Walter Walker
Wildlife Trail

State

Wildlife

Area

2.4

Railroad Blvd

Railroad Avenue

0.4

Railhead Circle

2.8 miles from Railhead Circle
to Frontage Road

Hwy 6 & 50

River Road

Blue Heron
Boat Launch
Free Parking
No Rest Rooms

Riverfront Trail:
Blue Heron
Section

CAUTION:
Bike Path Under
Overpass May Flood
During Peak River
Flows (May-June)

- Bike Path
- - - Street on Bike Route
- Surface Streets
- State Highways
- Railroad

0.8
Distance Between Points
in Miles

This map was created in 2016 using the best available information. If you have any comments, suggestions, compliments, gripes, or any ideas on how to make this map more useful please let me know at velocartographer@gmail.com

Cycling can be a dangerous sport at time, and even though you're not sharing a road with any cars, bike paths carry risks too. So be careful and if anything goes wrong it ain't my fault.

Now go ride your bike and have fun.

0 0.25 0.5 1 Miles

